

Laurence is a 23 year old freelance photographer and curator living in Montreal. Laurence's work often features themes of Gender identity, softness, and color theory. Mentored by Ivan Shaw (executive photo director at Vogue) and Curator of the Coven Collective & Camp Gallery.

They recently joined Gender Spectrum's Carlos Bermudez to discuss their art and art making process, Non-binary identity, and advice for young folks navigating their own gender identity and queerness.

You can learn more about the amazing work Laurence is doing by clicking on the links below:

- Laurence's portrait series, published on Broadly
- Laurence's Society6 page
- Laurence's Instagram
- Laurence's Website

We would love to hear your thoughts on this interview or your experience. Keep the conversation going by joining the Gender Spectrum Lounge. Check out groups like Expressing Your True Self and Non-Binary Teens.